

DIRECTIONS: Open your textbook to any chapter. Flip through the pages and examine everything you can. BUT DO NOT READ THE TEXT! Just take notes about how it's organized, what you see on the pages, etc.

	What can be learned from each
Feature, characteristics, etc.
	t you think the chapter is about. Explain w
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining n you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining n you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining n you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining n you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining n you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining n you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining in you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining in you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining in you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining in you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining in you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining in you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining in you read it.
Now, write a paragraph telling wha leads you to predict the chapter's chapter FIRST might help you whe	topic. Include how you think examining in you read it.